Judge Asks Re-Election

Roy Joe Stevens has announced his candidacy for re-election to the office of County Judge in the following statement:

I wish to announce my candidacy for the office of County Judge of Randall County, and in spite of the growth of Randall County during the past few years, I expect to see all of the voters between now and election time and to discuss with them the affairs of the County.

I will certainly appreciate the continued support of my friends and I wish to express my appreciation to the citizens of Randall County for the cooperation and courtesies that I have been extended to me and my family.

My qualifications consist of the fact that I am a licensed Attorney at Law with sufficient experience to handle the Probate Matters of Randall County, which consist of several million dollars in Estates which come under my immediate and full jurisdiction; my duties as Juvenile Judge; my Civil and Criminal Court duties and the duties of holding the chairmanship of the Commissioners' Court in connection with its administrative capacity.

We are all well aware of the great number of improvements made in Randall County during the past few years in which I have had the pleasure of taking an active part and of which, I feel, we can all be justly proud.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Olson flew to San Francisco and Los Angeles to visit relatives and friends.

Survey Shows City Growth

Is Canyon growing?

By whatever estimate formula you use, there has been some growth here in the past year, and more growth over the 1950 census figure, 4364. Just how much the population has grown is a matter of conjecture, and depends on which formula you use.

Figures kept in the various public service offices in Canyon show an increase in service during the past year.

The city shows a net gain of 27 active water customers between December, 1956, and December, 1957. Last year there were 1310 active customers and this year there are 1337.

Southwestern Public Service shows a gain of 78 customers in the past year, from 1456 to 1534.

Pioneer Natural Gas shows a gain of 130 customers in Canyon with 1399 in 1956 and 1529 at the end of 1957. In addition, the gas company now has more than 2000 customers in the district, a gain of more than 200 in the past year. The district includes Canyon, Happy, and much of the irrigation land in the county.

Postal receipts rose during the past year. According to acting postmaster Marion Higdon, the receipts were $53,360.90 during 1956, and $59,335.09 during 1957, an increase of nearly $6000.

Several formulas are used to figure out population on the basis of utility connections and one formula is available for using the number of children in the public schools.

Utility formulas include multiplying the average number of gas, water and electric customers by 3.3. This formula has been used at various times in Amarillo. Another, used by Southwestern Public Service, is to multiply the number of electric customers by 3.1.

Another utility formula is to multiply the average number of customers by 3.5. This formula is used by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The formula designed to use the number of children in school is to multiply the number of scholastics by 5.4. It was used by Chas. M. Rogers, former superintendent of schools in Amarillo, with considerable success. He predicted the 1950 census figure in Amarillo within one per cent. It is the formula now used by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

If you really want to swell the population estimate, you can use the formula used by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce—multiply the average number of utility connections by 3.85.

These are the possible population estimates:

School children formula: 4714
3.3 Utility formula: 4838
3.5 Utility formula: 5131
3.85 Utility formula: 5644
3.1 Electric formula: 4755

To match any population estimate to the number which will be included in the 1960 census, you must add the number of students at West Texas State College who actually live in Canyon, either in dorms or in private homes out in town.

College officials say there are about 1200 who live in the dorms, and that figure will swell the population estimates to figures ranging from 5914 to 6844.

Regardless of the population estimate formula you would like to use, you can stick with these solid evidences of growth in Canyon:

In 1957, 34 new homes were built; 37 more blocks were paved to bring the total number to 311; postal receipts are up by nearly $6000; and the number of water, gas and electric customers has increased during 1957.

Early-Day Pics Given Committee

A number of pictures made in the days when West Texas State College was only about five years old have been presented to the college's Golden Anniversary planning committee.

The photographs were from the collection of Dr. Earl Sparks, retired dean of arts at the University of South Dakota, who presented them to the committee while visiting in the Panhandle area. Dr. Sparks is a member of the Class of 1915.

One of the pictures is of the class, which included six men and two women. Three of the men earned PhD degrees and one became a general in the Army.

Among the photographs are the women's basketball team of 1913-14, a group of coeds frolicking at a picnic in 1913, a home economics class, the dedication of the new Administration Building, a shot of construction on the new building, a class picnic in Palo Duro Canyon, and boating on "Prichard's Pond."

Of special interest was a picture of several West Texas State Normal coeds boarding a Santa Fe train for "an outing in Amarillo." The date was in 1913. Also shown in a picture are a couple from WT and their 1913 model automobile.

West Texas State will observe its 50th anniversary in 1959-60, and a committee appointed by President James P. Cornette has begun preliminary planning for the observance. Dean Walter H. Juniper is committee chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Judge W. Pierce and family are retiring and moving to 2600 Duncan Drive in Amarillo. Pierce, son of Mrs. L. A. Pierce, was Ford dealer in Canyon until he moved to Earth to farm in 1946.

R. S. Rusk Dies In Tucumcari

Mr. Rusk, 45, died at his home in Tucumcari at 5:15 p. m. Sunday. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

He was Veterans Service Officer for the New Mexico Veterans Commission. A veteran of World War II, Mr. Rusk had served in the Navy. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Disabled American Veterans.

Mr. Rusk was a member of the Methodist Church. He had been the Veterans Service Officer for the past five years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Joan Rusk; a son, Ralph Seymour Jr.; a daughter, Jerrye Sue Rusk; his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rusk of Canyon; a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Patton, Amarillo; a half-sister, Mrs. Annette Brooks, Canyon; and his grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Trowbridge, Amarillo.

Services Held for Suzanne Elliott

Funeral services for Suzanne Bea Elliott were conducted Friday afternoon in the Happy Methodist Church by the Rev. Walter C. Hadley, pastor.

Pallbearers were Harry Hardaway, Ray Spear, Willard Middleton, John F. Toles, W. T. Robinson and L. S. Johnston. Burial was in the Happy Cemetery under direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Born March 26, 1944, in Amarillo, Suzanne lived all of her life in Happy. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Si Elliott.

Suzanne died Tuesday night at the family farm home eight miles east of Happy. She had been ill for about two years.

She was a member of the Methodist Church and the Order of the Rainbow for Girls.

In addition to her parents, survivors include a sister, Willa Jane Elliott; her grandmothers, Mrs. S. G. Elliott, Glendale, Ariz., and Mrs. William Bennett, Phoenix, Ariz.; and her great-grandmother, Mrs. James G. Hammels, Phoenix.

2 Women Serve On Grand Jury

For the first time in Randall County's history, women will serve on the grand jury.

Mrs. Walter Graham and Mrs. Felix Pierce were empanelled Monday morning by Dist. Judge E. E. Jordan. The other 10 members of the grand jury are:

H. R. Budke, foreman, Kenneth Erwin, Iverson Leake, George Brockman, Conway Kuykendall, L. L. Byars, A. C. Evers, Joe Fortenberry, John Jennings and Lewis Hinders.

The grand jury indicted five persons Monday and recessed until Jan. 20, when they are expected to consider evidence against John L. McCarty and J. W. Pierson in the alleged gift of $2000 from McCarty to Pierson.

McCarty is the recently resigned president of Estate Life Insurance Company and Pierson is a former employe of the State Insurance Commission.

Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair had expected to present the evidence this week, but had not received it from an investigator for the Texas Senate Investigating committee.

Eaglettes Win Despite Injuries

Canyon High School Eaglettes won one game in the Panhandle basketball tournament despite injuries to three of the first four guards.

Canyon defeated Kress, 40-38, but lost to White Deer, 55-37, and Tulia, 63-32, while guards Carolyn Glanton, Traverne Gillham and Vicki Wiggins were benched with injuries.

Miss Glanton was injured in the final game of the Tulia tournament before the Christmas holidays and is not expected to see action for some time. Miss Gillham re-injured a knee that had been injured in the Tulia tournament. Miss Wiggins dislocated a finger before the first game of the Panhandle Tournament.

Joy Rose scored 18 points in the effort to defeat White Deer in the first game. Marilyn Winn made 15 points in the same game.

Miss Rose again led Canyon scorers with 19 points in the second game, which was against Kress. Miss Winn made 14 points in that game. Against the Tulia team, Miss Rose scored 17 points and Miss Winn made 10.

Miss Winn was named to the All-Tournament team.

Byrd To Run for County Clerk

Roy N. Byrd Sr. has announced his candidacy for the office of County Clerk in the following statement:

This is to announce my candidacy to the office of County Clerk for Randall County, Texas. I have been a resident of Randall County for 30 years. I am a member of the American Legion and have served the public in various capacities. If I am elected as your County Clerk, I will endeavor to handle the office in a businesslike manner. I hope to see and talk with everyone in the County concerning my candidacy for this office. My candidacy is subject to the Democratic primary.

Sheriff Protests Audit Reports' Undue Criticism of His Office

A protest that the audit report made recently by Cornell and Company put his office under "undue criticism" was made by Sheriff L. S. Johnston at the meeting of the Randall County Commissioners Court Monday.

Sheriff Johnston protested to the portion of the report which says, "Since the Sheriff collects the fines and fees assessed in the county criminal cases, the amounts collected and the case numbers should be made available to the County Clerk so that the Clerk may post this information on the dockets maintained in his office."

The report, under the portion for the clerk's office, repeats the statement in nearly the same language, adding the statement, . . . "The County Clerk has not received the amounts and the criminal dockets have not been maintained in such a manner that they reflect all of the fines and fees assessed or other disposition of the cases, the amounts collected or the balance still due. These records should be properly maintained by the Clerk, and he should avail himself of the necessary information or such information should be made available to him so that it may be entered on the dockets."

Sheriff Johnston said the wording of the two statements makes it appear that he is not making the information available. He said that is untrue, because he makes two reports each month which carry the information.

The sheriff said he makes a report each month to the comsioners court which details the information on fines and fees, and jail sentences, for each prisoner he handles. In addition, he reports the fines, fees and sentences on a legal form called a "commitment," which is sent to the sheriff when a prisoner appears in county court.

The sheriff said each commitment is filled in at the end of the month and sent to the county judge's office. In that office, the information is used to complete notations on the judge's docket, then the commitment is sent to the clerk's office to be filled in individual "shucks" with other papers on each prisoner.

Sheriff Johnston said the clerk's office could complete their docket from that information, or from the monthly report made to the commissioners court.

He said he was under the impression that the monthly report to the commissioners is filed in the clerk's office, but had found out recently that the county auditor takes the report and files it.

"If anyone is depriving the clerk it's the auditor, and not me, and I don't think I should be held up in front of the public as not doing my duty," Sheriff Johnston said.

"I have made them available as the law provides. I feel like this is undue criticism," he said.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman said he felt that a full-time auditor is supposed to be sure everything gets to its right place.

Sheriff Johnston said he did not feel that he should tell the county clerk how to handle his office, and he did not wish to criticise the clerk. He told the commissioners court that he felt it only right that his office should not be criticised because another office did not fill in a docket. "It looks like it's my fault," he said.

Sheriff Johnston said he talked with some of the personnel of Cornell and Company when they were checking records in his office, and was told that he would be notified if any procedures he is using are wrong. "I haven't seen him since," the sheriff said.

County Judge Roy Joe Stevens said the sheriff is following the correct legal procedures for filing his reports. He said that he gained the impression that the report of Cornell and Company boils down to a recommendation that duplicate records be kept in all county offices. He said such a procedure would be a "terrible waste" of the taxpayer's money.

"If the taxpayers want to spend their money that way, though, then the county can do what Cornell and Company suggests," the judge said.

In other business, the court granted a request of Mrs. Ruth Hill, county treasurer, that she be given the right to employ part time help for two weeks to prepare W-2 forms for county employes.

Eagles Start District Play

District play begins for the Canyon Eagles Friday night when Muleshoe hits Canyon in the high school gym here. Dalhart plays here Tuesday night to continue the district race.

The Eagles have a .500 record to begin the race, with seven wins and seven losses.

Canyon dumped Happy for the third time this season Tuesday night in the high school gym by a score of 60-59.

Last weekend the Eagles played in the Panhandle tournament, losing the first game by a score of 64-62 to Panhandle in an overtime period. The score was tied 57-57 at the end of the regular game.

In their second game of the tournament, the Eagles lost to Stinnett, 65-52.

In the Panhandle game, A. L. Pruett was high scorer with 21 points, while Leonard Miller had 18. Dory Funk picked up nine, Roy Harris six, Dwayne Ledbetter four, and Larry Brotherton and Frank Davis, two each.

In the Stinnett game, Miller took over the scoring lead with 21 points. Brotherton had eight, Cecil Pitt six, Pruett four, Davis and Bob Winn three each, Harris and Tom Brasher two each, and Craig Hinger one.

Miller was the high scorer for Canyon in the Happy game, with 17 points and Pruett was second with 15. Pitt ranked third with 14. Brotherton gained six, Funk five and Harris three.

City Plans Ban on Truck Parking Longer Than Two Hours on Streets

An ordinance to insure that truckers will use the parking lot being prepared for them near Taylor-Evans in the west end of Canyon was studied Monday night by the city commission.

The ordinance will limit truck parking on city streets to a maximum of two hours and would also prohibit parking closer than 50 feet to an intersection. The commission felt that if no deterrent to all-night parking were passed, truckers would not feel compelled to use the parking lot all the time.

After studying the ordinance, the commission ordered City Secretary Andy Boggs to have it approved for form by the city attorney, A. W. Lair. The ordinance would provide a maximum penalty of $100 for violations.

The commission also studied applications for the position of chief of police and set a meeting Wednesday afternoon to interview possible candidates. More than a dozen applications were received and the commission picked several for interviews.

Boggs said he would contact those the commission had selected to arrange the interview time.

The commission also ordered a public hearing to hear a proposal to rezone the east half of blocks 75, 86, 87 and 98, Conner Addition, from residential to commercial. The hearing was set for the regular meeting in February.

The change in zone classification was recommended by the zoning commission. Involved in the recommendation are the east halves of the 1000, 1100, 1200 and 1300 blocks on 24th Street. The west halves of those blocks, fronting on Highway 87, are zoned commercial at the present time.

Wonderland of Snow

Six inches of snow fell in Canyon Saturday and Saturday night, leaving the town and countryside a wonderland of white. Moisture from the snow totaled .65 of an inch and should prove a boon to winter wheat growers and to pasture-land. Falling gently, the snow piled on tree limbs, and outlined their bareness, as it did to two in front of the WT Administration Building. On the courthouse square, the monument to the dead of World War I caught its blanket that piled on the high spots of the motionless soldier. The snow was a natural for building snowmen—and one of the largest families was the one made by the Jack T. Hugheses, with cigar-smoking father, broom-wielding mother and two children.

Science Teacher Shortage

In this time of rush, rush, rush to obtain more scientists, with government talking of scholarships in terms of billions of dollars of tax money, and voices from all over decrying the U. S. educational system, a calm voice from one of our major corporations is telling of a way to insure that our future will include an adequate educational program for budding scientists.

The voice of the Shell Oil Company will not be heard very far, because its program doesn't include the vast number of dollar signs that our federal government's does. But it is a voice that should be heard and heeded.

For some years, Shell has had a subsidiary called Shell Companies Foundation, Inc., which gives money to educational, charitable, public service and religious organizations. The budget for this year has been increased to $1,350,000 to add two plans to the educational portion of the Foundaion program. This is what Shell will do for science beginning in 1958:

• A high school teacher program, called Shell Merit Scholarships, will provide 25 four-year college scholarships to high school seniors planning teaching careers in high school chemistry, physics, general science and mathematics. Each year until 1961, the company will add 25 scholarships until it is providing 100 per year. The program will be administered through National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which will match the Shell funds and provide a total of 200 such scholarships in 1961.

(The Shell reasoning for the program: "Preparation for a career in science should begin in high school, and high school students are most likely to become interested in science if they have interesting teachers. Developing good teachers is partly a matter of providing money for training them; but it is also a matter of generating wider public interest in the profession, giving teachers more prestige, and making teaching attractive to more young people. We hope our program will help increase the interest.")

• Shell assists will consist of $1,500 grants to each of 50 colleges and universities not now receiving Shell Foundation research grant support. The money will be used by the schools to help with "little things" in professional development of college faculty teachers that are seldom covered by major grants, such as funds for attending professional meetings or visiting other institutions for research.

Those are the two new programs that Shell has added. The company has other programs already in effect, and money is being added to expand them. Those programs are:

• Merit fellowship program to provide summer seminars at Cornell and Stanford for 100 high school science and mathematics teachers. Last year 90 attended. The program, started in 1956, pays the expenses of the teachers attending the seminars and provides an additional grant of $500 cash each to offset the loss of potential summer earnings. The college faculties give the high school teachers advance training in their fields.

• Grants for graduate fellowships go to 51 outstanding science students doing post-graduate work. Single students and married students with no children get $1800 as a personal stipend. Married students with children get $2100. Students' tuition and fees are paid and an additional fund is supplied as a cost-of-education supplement to the department in which he studies.

• The Foundation provides 20 research grants of $7500 each, split up with $5000 going for expanding fundamental research and $2500 for any uses the school desires. The schools are given full responsibility and latitude in selecting regular term and summer fellows and in using funds for basic research.

• Other educational programs to receive support from the Foundation are the National Fund for Medical Education, National Science Teachers Association, Institute of International Education, Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges, and the United Negro College Fund.

This is what is being done by only one corporation. You will notice that all the programs are on the basis of merit, insuring that only those who actually have the ability to become scientists or science teachers participate—and that the money will not be squandered on marginal students who might or might not get the job done.

The full story of scholarships and aids being given education by the corporations of America would make an interesting story, and might even dwarf the gigantic program called for by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It costs less, too.

Litterbugs at Home

A survey of litterbugging was conducted recently by the Texas Highway Department, and the department found that people are worse about cluttering up their own backyards than somecne else's.

The survey was to discover if litterbags distributed to motorists are effective. A litterbag is a paper sack for stowing normal debris that collects in a car or truck on a trip. The department distributed 50,000 litterbags to motorists, furnished by the Texas Motel Association.

At the completion of the test period, 200 highway maintenance foremen throughout the state reported that few of the bags were found discarded along roadsides, indicating that the bags are being used, emptied and re-used.

A bit of information gained on the side showed that the worst litterbugs are local people, not the out-of-state visitors nor motorists from another area of the state, but local residents who discard trash, bottles and cans from cars and trucks. As one foreman put it, "People will do things at home they wouldn't dare do away from home."

Aside from being costly and dangerous, the habit of tossing litter on highways is against the law, with fines of up to $200 and costs being assessed violators.

The department feels that if people will be more careful about how their own backyards look, the state will be saved a great amount of money now spent in cleaning up, and the highways in Texas will be more appealing. We think so, too.

Apogee of Silliness

Eleven high school boys and a Catholic nun in Austin, Minn., have an organization known as the Austin Rocket Society. Actually a high school class, the society has fired dozens of rockets, and apparently know how to do it safely.

They've been working on a plan to fire a rocket containing a live mouse that would be parachuted to safety after the trip. They fired one rocket with a dummy mouse, and recovered it successfully. They fired another, carrying a live mouse but something went wrong with the rocket and it was destroyed in the air. They plan to fire another rocket with another live mouse.

But they may not be allowed to do it. The Humane Society in Washington has filed an injunction suit to stop the firing. "The use of living animals in rockets of the type fired by the Austin boys' club is a pure cruelty," the Humane Society says.

It says, too, "We and many thousands of other people are appalled by the fact that the religious order which is sponsoring this cruelty seems to be more concerned with materialistic aspects of education than with consideration of character building and moral values."

Now aren't you ashamed you set that trap and killed that mouse that was eating you out of house and home. We think that the Humane Society is exhibiting the heighth of silliness, and long may the Red Star of Russia wave.

Gov. Price Daniel took a look backward and a look forward and focused on two issues as crucial to Texans: water conservation (1957) and tidelands defense (1958).

Daniel named the newly-passed water conservation and planning measures as the most significant accomplishment during the first year of his administration. Texas is 25 years behind its neighbor states in this field, said the governor, but now can "begin to catch up."

Looking ahead, the governor called on fellow citizens to square off for another round with the federal government. Two-thirds of Texas' multi-million-dollar tidelands are at stake. Latest suit in the decade-long struggle was filed recently by the U. S. attorney general and likely will be considered in the Supreme Court sometime this year. It contends that Texas owns land three miles from shore, rather than three leagues (10½ miles) claimed by the state.

Daniel said he would cooperate with Texas Attorney General Will Wilson in every way in preparing the state's defense. As attorney general and U. S. senator, Daniel has twice before, in court and Congress, led Texas' fight for its oil-rich tidelands.

Hart To Help

Former Supreme Court Justice James P. Hart of Austin will serve the Attorney General's Department as special counsel in preparation of Texas' defense against the tidelands suit.

Wilson said he'll give all his time during the next two months to the case. He also announced that his assistants, James N. Ludlum and James H. Rogers, and Austin attorney Chrys Dougherty will work on the case.

Rudder Resigns

Land Commissioner Earl Rudder will leave the Capitol City Feb. 1 to become vice president of his alma mater, Texas A&M.

He will be succeeded by Bill Allcorn, fraud-fighting district attorney of Brown County (Brownwood).

Rudder was appointed land commissioner by Gov. Allan Shivers, early in 1955, to replace Bascom Giles. In resigning, Rudder said he felt "in all sincerity" he had accomplished his "mission to restore the land office to a place of confidence and respect."

Allcorn, while district attorney, secured the conviction of Mario (El Turko) Sapet for a murder arising from South Texas' political troubles. He also served as a special assistant to the attorney general in ferreting out veterans land swindlers.

After naming Allcorn, Gov. Daniel also announced appointment of David J. Morris of Brownwood to be Brown County DA.

Big Turnover

Besides those above, some 85 other Texans will have new jobs in the new year.

Governor Daniel put in some December overtime ploughing through lists of names and making appointments to scores of vacancies that had piled up on state boards, commissions and committees. Among recent appointments:

Water Development Board: Marvin Nichols of Fort Worth, chairman; C. Y. (Cy) Mills of Mission, James D. Sartwelle of Houston; Bill Taylor of Longview, Marvin Shurbet of Petersburg and W. (Buck) Tinsley of Austin. This board is to administer the new $200,000,000 program to build local water conservation projects.

State Law Enforcement Commission: Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, Dr. W. R. White of Waco, Jack Hightower of Vernon. Also new, this group will seek ways to streamline Texas' criminal code. Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Speaker Waggoner Carr will name three more members each.

Good Neighbor Commission: Boyd E. Ryan of El Paso, W. W. Callan of Waco and R. L. Wheelock of Corsicana.

Liquor Control Board: Summers A. Norman of Jacksonville.

Teacher Retirement System Board: Lois Gray of Fort Worth, Knox Kinard of Pampa and James V. Wheat of Houston.

State Finance Commission: R. J. Bartosh of Taylor (reappointed) and J. H. Bain of Stockdale.

Board of Public Welfare: Will Bond of Hillsboro.

Game and Fish Commission: Frank Wood of Wichita Falls and J. W. Elliott of Mexia (reappointed) and Ben F. Vaughan Jr. of Corpus Christi.

Board of Texas Southern University: Mack Hannah Jr. of Port Arthur, chairman, (reappointed), Dr. John Davis of Houston and J. M. Odom of Austin.

Sabine River Authority: Robert K. Crow of Wills Point.

Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission: Wilson Southwell of San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Credit Unions Advisory Commission: Benny G. Levisee of Fort Worth.

Committee To Study Problems of the Aged: Mrs. William B. Ruggles of Dallas, Dr. Frederick Dorsey of Houston, Dr. Jose T. Sepulveda of San Antonio, Judge W. N. Stokes of Amarillo and Elmer Lee Todd of Waco.

TEXAS

When Sam Houston was governor of Texas, he urged the indictment of a man so strongly that some objected that he was persecuting the individual. Old Sam replied that his only motive was the enforcement of the law and that the man was guilty. But, Houston added, "If he is convicted, I will pardon him for I shall never allow such an unmitigated scoundrel to contaminate the penitentiary of Texas!"

The great editor, Horace Greeley, was presiding at a New York presidential electors' meeting. One elector was absent. Greeley said, "I am sure our brother is absent for a good reason." Then, in an undertone to Chauncey M. Depew, the editor said, "How long do you suppose it will be before that drunken fool is able to get here?"

An English wit, Theodore Hook, said to an over-dressed, pompous man, "Pray, sir, forgive my question; but may I ask, are you anyone in particular?"

Of all the men whom I've met that the world considered great, none was more unpretentious than Gypsy Smith, the evangelist. In the course of an address, he would sing a song which was appropriate to his thought. The singing was without accompaniment, in a voice of natural sweetness. The song finished, he would resume his speech.

When he visited Memphis, he was taken for a drive. In beautiful Overton Park, he said, "Please stop the car." In the trees, birds were singing and he joined his voice with theirs in song. They were praising their Creator and so was he.

Back when I was the young editor of the paper in Eastland, Earl Bender, a friend of mine remarked, "Boyce, every time I see you walking down the street, I get homesick; I think of my days on the farm." When I smiled in appreciation, he continued, "Yes, the way you walk reminds me of our old cow."

Very important facts: The first automobile ever owned in Brinkley, Ark., was won in a raffle . . . Red is a danger signal in Billings, Mont.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Jimmie Gillentine in the Hereford Brand: Despite their reputation for bragging, you occasionally run across a Texan with a sense of humor. Byrle Elliston, for instance, can roll a cigarette Texas fashion as well as anyone you ever met. I heard a story the other day about how Byrle was rolling out the "makins" before an astonished Eastern visitor, who kept expressing amazement at Byrle's skill.

"Aw shucks," replied the Ole Hoss Thief, "it ain't nothin' much to rollin' 'em. It's putting on the filters that always gets me."

Ben Ezzell in the Canadian Record: We see by the papers where one prominent rocket scientist theorizes that the ideal rocket pilot for the space ships of the future may come from the nearest booby hatch. The theory is that a mild schizophrenic, who probably wants to be alone anyway, would be best-adjusted, psychologically, for space travel.

In simpler language, you don't have to be crazy to want to rocket to the moon—but it will help if you are.

High School FHA Tells Dec. Activities

Activities made December a busy month for the Canyon High School chapter of Future Homemakers of America.

Projects for the month included sending money and cards to groups, a demonstration on making Christmas decorations, a Civil Defense program, installation of new FHA members, a tea for mothers and a supper for members of the school board.

As a part of a state-wide project, the local FHA chapter mailed Christmas cards to the State Mental Hospital at Wichita Falls, and as part of a national project, the chapter sent a check to the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization. Money sent to UNESCO in 1956 was used to buy sewing machines for a Korean high school.

Mrs. W. R. Crow, whose hobby is flowers, demonstrated making Christmas centerpieces and corsages before each homemaking class.

Installation of new members and a Civil Defense program were presented at the regular December FHA meeting. Harold Johnson, director of the Amarillo Ground Observer Corps, spoke on the importance of Civil Defense. A film on the work of the ground observers was shown.

Judy Taylor directed the installation of new members of FHA, who are Elaine Downing, Sue Fain, Norma Lou Henderson, Sally Jennings, Rhea McCleny, La Vonne Patterson, Patricia Salmon, Juanita Barnard, Kay Boydstun, Jan Brotherton, Linda Burgess, Nancy Cleavinger, Polly Cummins, Mary Lee Hartman, Peggy Sue Hales, Norma Hathaway, Dorothy Higdon, Jo Hubbard, Edna Lewis, Terri Ridge, Patty Seymour and Kathryn Winstead.

Assisting Miss Taylor in the emblem service were Nedra Fanning, Carmen Fowler, Mary McCoy and Linda Hughes.

Members of the first year homemaking class held a Christmas tea for their mothers. Members modeled garments they had made.

The third year foods class served a Christmas dinner to members of the school board, administrators and wives.

All classes helped in the project of selling German chocolate cakes, fruit cakes and packaged pecans.

Plans for the FHA banquet in February will highlight the meeting on the second Thursday in January. "Families Together" and "Texas Flags" will also be a part of the program.

Mrs. W. R. Crow pins corsages on freshman students La Vonne Patterson and Sally Jennings. Mrs. Crow made the corsages to show how they can be made at home.

Information on how to join the Canyon post of the Ground Observer Corps was given to FHA and FFA last month. Harold Johnson of the GOC, Judy Taylor, FHA president, Sgt. Doyle of the Air Force and Loyd Triplett, FFA vice president, examine papers.

Sue Wimberly, Joe Pruet Repeat Wedding Vows in Chapel Ceremony

Nuptial vows were solemnized Dec. 28 in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State College for Sue Wimberly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Wimberly of Dawn, and Joe E. Pruet of Amarillo Air Force Base, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Pruet of Abilene.

Dr. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladiolus and palms.

Nuptial selections played by Juanelva Rose of Tulia, organist, were "Always," "You" and "The Lord's Prayer." Traditional marches were used as the processional and recessional. "Claire de Lune" was played during the ceremony.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was Mrs. Lynn Sherron of Amarillo, and bridesmaids were Phyllis Wimberly, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Norman Tucek of Dawn. They were identically attired in ballerina length dresses of delustered wine taffeta, designed on princess lines with V necklines. Elbow length gloves and matching pillbox hats completed their costumes. They carried arm bouquets of white roses.

Best man was Tom Murray of Amarillo. Dag Ruegger of Arcola, Miss., and Ross Smith of Olean, N. Y., were groomsmen. Ushers were Floyd Pruet of Abilene, brother of the bridegroom, and Bill Gray of Denmark, S. C.

Glene Pruet of Abilene, brother of the bridegroom, and Ted Wimberly, brother of the bride, were candlelighters.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white delustered satin and chantilly lace designed with a lace bodice, portrait neckline and long tapered sleeves.

The bride's floor length bouffant skirt was accented with a bustle effect at the back and terminated in a chapel train. Her veil of French illusion, elbow length, was attached to a princess tiara of seed pearls. She carried a prayer book topped with stephanotis centered with white pearls.

Mrs. Wimberly, mother of the bride, wore a blue wool suit with winter white and black accessories. Mrs. Pruet, the bridegroom's mother, wore a brown crepe dress with beige accessories. Both mothers wore white gardenia corsages.

The bridal party was feted at a reception at the Baptist Student Center following the ceremony. Centered with white gladiolus flanked by candles, the serving table was laid with a lace cloth over wine. Assisting in the house party were Mrs. Bill Thomas of Floydada, Carolyn Maples of Pampa, Mrs. Jarrel Hurst of Reedy, W. Va., and sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Carroll Vaughn of Canyon and Mrs. Bobby Jones of Amarillo.

The couple will be at home at 2110 Seventh Avenue after the wedding trip, for which the bride chose a sheath suit of powder blue trimmed with braid. Her accessories were black.

A graduate of Hereford High School, Mrs. Pruet attended Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee, Okla., before coming to West Texas State, where she is now a senior. The bridegroom, a graduate of Abilene High School, is studying at Amarillo College.

LaGrone Speaks To Club Council

Jerry LaGrone of the Warren-LaGrone Funeral Home explained the perpetual care plan for Dreamland Cemetery to the Randall County Home Demonstration Council as it met in the Farm Bureau building Jan. 7.

Other actions before the council were adoption of recommendations of special committees, election of a new county THDA chairman, and a talk on reporting club activities.

LaGrone, after passing out sheets of questions-and-answers, explained the perpetual care program for the cemetery, its reason for existence, method of operation and organization. He answered questions from the audience at many points in his talk.

Recommendations from the finance, exhibit, education and recreation committees were adopted by the council. Included in the recommendations were a budget of $580 for 1958, a proposed exhibit on diets in merchants' windows and a craft show, a civil defense program by club members three times a year and a continuation of club sponsored recreation after council meetings.

Mrs. R. A. Hodges, president of the Pleasant View club, was elected Randall County chairman of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, to replace Mrs. Roger Dugan, who resigned.

Annelle Dugan, reporter for The Canyon News, gave the council some tips on reporting events.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

1958

This will be the first newsletter of the New Year. I wish it were possible for me to correctly predict everything that would happen during the next 12 months and that all of my predictions could be good news for the good fortune of each and every one of you. However, God in His infinite wisdom denied man the power to see into the future, and although we constantly worry about what the future will bring, I am sure that none of us would change the pattern if we had the power.

Our best estimates of what the future holds must come from the past. Looking backward only a few short years, we awaken to the fact that yesterday's miracles are today's commonplace. What appeared to be insurmountable obstacles only a few years back developed into nothing more than challenges to the ingenuity of man.

Challenges that served to spur on rather than retard. Challenges that have resulted in tremendous achievements and unheard of advances in our civilization. I dare say that anyone in 1858 who was foolhardy enough to predict automobiles, aircraft, radio, television, frozen foods and countless other benefits that we enjoy in 1958, would have been tried for practicing witchcraft and undoubtedly flogged in the public square.

Yet, 1958 is the year that will probably produce the first trip of man into outer space. It will probably be the year in which the door of the universe is opened slightly, and vast new fields of opportunity made available to the inhabitants of the earth.

With these new fields of opportunity and these new achievements, there will be many new complex problems. Problems in law, in medicine, in government activities, in engineering, in industry, in business and in every segment of our economy. They will be difficult problems that will challenge the souls of men, but they will not be impossible of solution. They must be taken one at a time and properly solved to the best interest of this country and our people. Their solution must not require the sacrifice of individual human dignity nor the basic freedoms upon which our government was founded.

1958 holds one of the greatest challenges ever faced by man. Can we solve these problems and maintain and preserve our basic freedoms and human dignity without war? If history writes an affirmative answer to this question, our generation can say that it has met a part of its responsibility to the future.

The Supreme Court

Among the many things that will be attacked in the new session of Congress will be the question, "What to do with the unlimited power of the Supreme Court?" Although there are many suggested answers that range all the way from "abolishing the Supreme Court" to "acknowledge the unlimited power of the Court and underwrite it by statute."

You can readily see that neither of these extremes would serve our best interests. The true answer lies in the spelling out of the intention of the framers of the Constitution, so that the Judicial shall not have the right or the power to over-ride the intent of the Congress. The three divisions of our government, to wit, the Legislative, the Executive and the Judicial, were unquestionably intended as balances, one against the other.

Yet, speaking from a frank and realistic standpoint, the Supreme Court is presently vested with powers, based upon precedent, that actually could constitute it a dictatorial tribunal from which there is no appeal. Some of these powers have been exercised in recent years, and it is this exercise of power that is causing great alarm in many phases of our economy.

The Indianapolis Star has recently published a booklet containing editorials that were published in that newspaper in the fall of 1957. Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of that newspaper, states that the editorials were written after a long and careful study of recent Court decisions and of the historical relationships between the Supreme Court, the Congress and the Presidency. He refers to the issue as the most critical Constitutional issue of our times.

The editorials contain information indicating excellent research on the part of the writer. They contain excellent criticisms of the usurpation of power by the Court, but fail to come forth with any concrete suggestions for a permanent solution.

One of these editorials contains the following statement: "No Federal Court has any legal authority whatsoever to rule out or alter a law passed by Congress unless the law violates the Constitution." This statement is true, but grossly misleading. The truth is that the Supreme Court now has and frequently exercises the final power to determine whether or not 'the law violates the Constitution.'

The key to the problem therefore lies in the limitation of that power. There is a serious question whether this can be done effectively by a statute passed by the Congress. Simply because if such a statute were passed, the Supreme Court would have the power to declare it unconstitutional and of no force and effect. Therefore, it may be necessary for the several states constituting this Union to amend the Federal Constitution in that regard.

It is my intention during the early days of the coming session of Congress to introduce legislation designed to limiting that power of the Supreme Court. This I propose to do by making provision that the declaration of the Supreme Court of the unconstitutionality of any public law passed by the Congress may be overridden by the Congress in the same manner as Presidential vetoes of laws passed by the Congress are overridden. It is my feeling that such procedure will provide a true voice of the people and slow down the trend toward concentration of power in Washington.

It is my further intention to present this matter not only as a proposed bill that could become a statute if passed by the Congress and signed by the President, but also as a Constitutional Amendment.

SoRelle-Hicks Nuptial Vows Read In Double Ring Service in Amarillo

Dr. Otis Skinner, pastor, read the double ring wedding service uniting Phyllis Karol SoRelle, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William SoRelle Jr. of Amarillo and granddaughter of Mrs. Laura SoRelle of Canyon, and Johnny Weldon Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley N. Hicks Sr. of Amarillo, in the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo Dec. 23.

Dr. Skinner read the service before holly trimmed pyramid candelabra, backed by emerald trees of holly. Aisle candelabra holding votive lights marked with clusters of holly in green satin bows completed the decor.

A nuptial prelude of "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Largo," "Kammennoi Ostrow," "Arioso" and "O Perfect Love" were played by Louis Muckelroy, organist. The traditional processional and recessional marches were used.

Attending the bride as maid-of-honor was Cora Jo Lilly, and Cordelia Harris and Dorothy Smith acted as bridesmaids. Jan SoRelle, a cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

They wore identically styled dresses of red velveteen, styled with fitted bodices, keyhole necklines, three-quarter length sleeves and bouffant skirts. Their headdresses were holly wreaths on bases of green velvet. They carried crescent bouquets of English holly tied with green satin ribbon.

Wiley Hicks was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Ray Ford and Pat Patterson. John SoRelle, brother of the bride, was junior groomsman. Ushers were Bill and Mark SoRelle, brothers of the bride, Dewey Hicks Jr. and Paul Setzler, cousins of the bridegroom, and Gordon Todd and Donald Harvey. Candles were lighted by Paul SoRelle, brother of the bride, and Carolyn Upshaw, cousin of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk peau de sole appliqued with French lace and seed pearls. The dress, styled on princess lines, had a portrait neckline, long tapered sleeves and bouffant skirt, extending into a chapel train. Her finger tip length veil of silk illusion was held to a cornet of illusion by pearl trim. She carried a white satin and lace covered Bible topped with a white orchid and streamers.

A reception in Fellowship Hall of the church followed the ceremony. The brdie's table, laid with a white appliqued organdy cloth, was centered with a Dresden bowl filled with white stock, roses and chrysanthemums. The centerpiece was flanked by cherub candlesticks holding miniature bouquets of matching flowers and garlanded with white roses.

The bridegroom's table was covered with an Italian cutwork cloth and held a silver candelabra, trimmed with clusters of silver, gold and red luster balls in swags of holly.

Carolyn Upshaw presided at the guest book. Assisting at the bride's table were Mrs. Joe McKay, Jane Keathly, Janet Triplett and Sara SoRelle, cousin of the bride. At the bridegroom's table were Carol Hicks, cousin of the bridegroom, Jarrilyn Middlebrooks and Barbara Middlebrooks, cousins of the bride. Also assisting in the house party were Timmie Williams and Mrs. Pat Patterson.

For the wedding trip to Denver and Colorado Springs, the bride traveled in an Italian knit costume of red with black and silver accessories. The couple is at home at 3102 Julian, Amarillo.

A graduate of Amarillo High School, Mrs. Hicks is a sophomore at Amarillo College. The bridegroom, who attended Amarillo College, is employed by Dewey Hicks, contractor.

Our New Year's Resolution

Happy New Year . . . in case I didn't get to wish you one in person. Here's hoping 1958 will be the best, most prosperous year ever for you and your family.

Lots of folks like to take the beginning of the year to make some resolutions for the future and I have one to offer during this first week of 1958. Mr. E. M. Clark, our president, wrote it to explain the policies and objectives we try to follow in furnishing your telephone service and I thought it would make an appropriate New Year's resolution for us to make and dedicate to our customers.

We Define Our Objectives

"OUR OBJECTIVE is to furnish the best possible telephone service at reasonable cost — a cost consistent with financial safety and fair treatment of employees.

"SERVICE ranks above everything else in this policy. And the only good service is one that is continually improving. To furnish this service we need the best people, the best equipment, the best methods, and the best management we can develop.

"REASONABLE COST has been defined as one that produces an ever-growing public demand. Our equipment, training, and methods would net us nothing if the cost of service became so high that people would not buy it.

"FINANCIAL SAFETY should not be endangered by setting the price of service too low. In the long run, a price that provides profit large enough to undertake new research and development results in better cheaper service to the public.

"FAIR TREATMENT OF EMPLOYEES means good pay, good working conditions, reasonable job security, and opportunity for advancement based on merit. It is people—employees—who are the most important element in the success of any business.

We Accept These Responsibilities

TO THE EMPLOYEES: Provide machines, methods, equipment, direction, leadership, job training, incentives to progress, selection for promotion.

TO THE PUBLIC: More and better service at a reasonable cost. Contributions to public welfare and natoinal defense.

TO THE OWNERS: Run business in a sound, profitable manner.

Looking Ahead

"PROGRESS has long been the keynote of the telephone business. And, if business forecasters are anywhere near correct the next 20 years will bring more growth and development than we have ever seen before.

"THE FUTURE can be faced confidently with a policy of equal consideration for owners, employees, and the public."

There you have it. We do our best every day to live up to this resolution and we hope you feel we're succeeding in our efforts to give you the best in telephone service.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

1617 5TH AVE. — CANYON, TEXAS

By L. A. Wilke

About 10 years ago on this very typewriter I penned a piece for my outdoors column about the passing of the Pacemaker. In it I shed a tear, along with thousands of others, for the discontinuance of the hand gun that helped to carve civilization out of a rugged west.

The Colt factory had decided that the market for its famous old single action Frontier model revolver was gone. Instead, they were selling ACPs and double action 33 Specials and snub nose guns.

The price of used single action Colt revolvers jumped. Many of them that once cost about $16 were sold for as high as $100. Collectors began gathering them. Classified ad pages of gun publications offered to buy or sell these valuable keepsake revolvers.

It was only natural that some other manufacturers came along with facsimiles. They ranged in price well above the last retail selling price of the Colt.

Then came TV. Quick triggered gunmen gave so much publicity to long barrel Colt pistols that they made a comeback.

But here is the big news. Colt has just announced a new 22 calibre version of the world-famous Single Action Army Colt. It will sell at a price below $50 — brand new.

There are many of us who have early memories of these wonderful guns. There was something about them, their feel, their appearance, and the way they hung on the hip, that we can never forget.

To our way of thinking there has been no advance in hand-gun manufacture in recent years greater than the return of the Colt Single Action.

It's a great gun.

Check Your Gun Sights

Speaking of guns, on a trip through West Texas recently we were talking with a party of hunters. One of them had shot at his buck seven times before he finally connected.

"I checked my sight AFTER I came in and found it was two feet off," the hunter said. "The shot that finally got the buck was purely an accident."

The rancher where these men were hunting then told how one time he had walked up on two big bucks standing just below the rim between Marfa and the Rio Grande. "I shot at them 34 times with my saddle 30-30 and never touched a hair," he said. "When I finally got around to checking my sights I found the front sight had been accidentally knocked over and I was missing these bucks by 37 inches at 100 yards."

Most hunters know they should zero their guns before taking a trip. But it is a little hard now to find a place for sighting in. About the best way is to join a good club that has a shooting range. If your home town has none, then how about organizing one?

Building Brush Shelters

We often hear someone talk about building brush shelters in fishing water, especially in known crappie waters. Some very intensive research work has been done by a number of biologists to determine whether brush cover in water really is beneficial both to fish and fishermen.

A test run on a Virginia lake revealed a definite increase in angler-success for black crappie. Overall fishing pressure in this particular lake increased 15 per cent between 1955 and 1956. But the harvest of black crappies increased 40 per cent in 1956 after installation of the shelters. Although only 22 per cent of the fishermen used the shelter areas, they harvested 57 per cent.

If you plan to build one of these shelters, talk with your game warden, area biologists of the Game & Fish Commission, or your county agent. They can give you some good advice.

Booklets Available

An 18-page illustrated Farmer's Bulletin on the construction of farm ponds for bass and blue gills has just been published by the U. S. Soil Conservation Services. You can get a copy by sending 15 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. If you plan a farm tank this year the bulletin will be most valuable.

For those of you interested in wilderness areas, in National Parks, there is a free bulletin. It is called the National Park Wilderness and was printed with private funds. You can get your copy of this 38-page booklet by writing to the U. S. Park Service, Washington, D. C.

Trout Fishing

An interesting letter has just come in from a man who read a story on trout fishing which we sold to one of the national publications some time back. He writes: "I have been trying to fish for salt water specs and red for the last couple of years. I don't have too good luck catching them, no matter how hard I try. I sure would like to catch a good mess of them one time. I've fished for them when they were as thick as cordwood in the water, yet they wouldn't hit a bait or lure . . . Any help you can give me will be appreciated."

Some of you salt water fishermen might want to give this man an assist. He signs his name Frank Siegel, Route 1, Wing, Ala.

Speaking of salt water fishing, Jimmie Yett, who runs Jenson Sporting Goods of Austin, has developed a "crawdad" lure which he says is making a real name for itself among Gulf coast fishermen. And sales tripled when he dropped the price from $1.25 to an even buck.

Oddities

A curious froglike fish of Africa, called the Goby, climbs trees to feed on wood ants. Often one Goby will climb while others stay below to nab dislodged victims.

In India there is a "Window Oyster" which has a flat, translucent shell that can be used as window glass.

Horns of the African rhino are not attached to its skull. They grow out of the skin. Among the Chinese the rhino's horn has high commercial value. They use them for medicinal purposes.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Will your fields blow next spring? The amount of grain sorghum stubble that you leave in your field may determine the extent that your fields will blow.

An important factor in leaving a good cover of stubble is the fact that it causes more resistance to the wind close to the ground therefore reducing the force of the wind at this level. As a result of reducing the force of the wind close to the ground there is less shifting of the sand particles.

Another advantage that could be considered is, if the soil is permitted to blow, plant nutrients will be lost from the blown portion of the soil where as with a good cover of stubble these nutrients are kept and additional plant nutrients gained from decomposition of the stubble.

Many stubble fields have more moisture in their soil than clean fields because of snow drifting in stubble instead of blowing on.

Soil cloddiness is another factor in reducing erosion by wind. Sorghum stubble fields that have been over-grazed not only have stubble (wind resistance) removed but also have had the structure of the soil broken down and pulverized by the pounding of too many hoofs. We all agree that it does not take much of a wind to get this floury fine soil blowing.

The supervisors of the Randall-Potter soil conservation district believe now is the time to take inventory of stubble and livestock and make your decision as whether your fields will be in condition to blow next spring.

Livestock Group Sells Memberships

Memberships in the Randall County Junior Livestock Association are now on sale, according to John Brazzil, county agent and chairman of the publicity committee of the association.

The money raised by selling membership tickets at $5 each will be used to cover the expenses of the Randall County Junior Livestock Show Jan. 17 and 18 at the city barns.

Brazzil said persons on the membership drive committee will contact everyone that they think might be interested in buying memberships, but any interested person who isn't contacted may buy a membership by seeing a member of the committee.

Members of the committee are W. E. Miller, George Schaeffer, Harley Burrus, J. O. Parker, Don Standley, B. E. McCormick, Earl Burtz, Bob Lindsey Jr., Tommy Triplett, E. M. Myers, L. T. Campbell, Jack Loudder, Milton Morris, Dr. J. L. Markham and Albert Byars.

Miller is chairman of the committee.

Delivered at our door this week was a holiday-wrapped package, containing 365 bright new days. Inside the big container, each day had its own cellophane wrapping, to keep it fresh until ready for use.

Our New Year's resolutions this year will center around this wonderful gift.

We've resolved to use each day in its proper sequence, never borrowing from tomorrow — or trying to carry over from yesterday — the annoyances and heartaches of either.

It's our hope to make each 24-hour span of precious time meaningful and constructive — some kindness, some work, some play, some rest.

We intend to keep a high polish on 1958 — no cracked friendships, from being left neglected out in the weather; no broken ties with loved ones, through selfishness or irritation.

If we are successful in trying to use these days thoughtfully, we'll not mar a single one with the kind of traffic behaviour that makes other drivers exclaim, "There goes a fool!" We'll not bawl out a sleepy saleswoman or a wrong-number caller. We'll remember what we're supposed to remember, keep within our grocery budget, darn the spouse's socks.

Each morning we'll go eagerly to our holiday-wrapped box. We'll pick up Today with a song in our heart, only glance at Tomorrow, but never sigh for Yesterday.

Resolutions? No, these are dreams for 1958. But if a cat can look at a queen, and a dog can ride in outer space, why can't an erring human being dream of perfection?

GIVE HIM OATS

The family and the dinner guest had seated themselves at the table.

"Betty," said the mother, "why on earth didn't you put a knife and fork at Mr. White's place?"

"He doesn't need them," replied Betty. "Daddy said he eats like a horse."

Column Explains Insurance Laws

New laws regulating insurance in Texas were explained this week in a column called "It's the Law in Texas," prepared by the State Bar of Texas.

The last regular session of the legislature passed a law establishing a three-man State Board of Insurance with a single Commissioner of Insurance as the administrative head, according to the column. The regulatory set-up replaces the Board of Insurance Commissioners of Texas.

The column says the old law provided that neither the actuary, examiners, or assistant examiners working under the Board of Insurance Commissioners should continue in office if they accepted directly or indirectly any employment, pay, compensation or gratuity from any insurance company. Except for the general law against bribery, dismissal from duty was the penalty and such penalty apparently did not apply as against Board Members, the column explains.

"The law establishing the new member of the State Board or the State Board of Insurance makes it a penitentiary offense for any member of the State Board or the Commissioner of Insurance or any employee or agent to accept anything of value or sell to or buy from any insurance company or its agents anything of value. The insurance company representative is also guilty of a penitentiary offense if he proposes any such forbidden act. (Article 1.09-3, Insurance Code)," the column says.

"To further strengthen the penal (criminal) laws, provisions were added (Articles 21.47 and 21.48, Insurance Code) that every report or document required to be made or filed under the Insurance Code should be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury. Any person wilfully making such a report or document falsely shall upon conviction be fined the sum of $5,000 and imprisoned for not less than two, nor more than five years," the column says.

"New powers were also given for regulating life insurance policies. Heretofore the law provided for the filing of life insurance policy forms and required that certain provisions be included and others be prohibited. (Articles 3.43 to 3.45, inclusive, Insurance Code.) When those "do's" and "don'ts" were met, the Board had little or no authority to disapprove other policy provisions," the column continues.

"The new law (Article 3.42, Insurance Code) places the duty upon the Insurance Commissioner to disapprove any life insurance policy and to withdraw any previous approval if 'it contains provisions which encourage misrepresentations or are unjust, unfair, inequitable, misleading, deceptive or contrary to law or to public policy of this State'." the column says.

The column ends with a notation that it is written to inform, not to advise, and that no person should apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised of the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.

County Has More Businesses Now

There are seven more business concerns in Randall County today than there were two years ago, according to Wayne A. Clark, manager of the Amarillo office of Dun and Bradstreet.

In 1956 there were 127 businesses in the county and now there are 134, Clark said. His figures are based on the D&B reference book, which does not include some of the service and "professional" businesses, such as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers.

Include Painting by Emilio Caballero In National Art Show in New York

Dr. Emilio Caballero, professor of art at West Texas State College and head of the art department, will have a painting in a national show Jan. 17 to Jan. 26 in Madison Square Garden in New York City.

Dr. Caballero's painting will be one of about 4,000 works shown in "Art U. S. A.: 58," a show which sponsors say aims at exhibiting a cross-section of American art. This is the first show of its magnitude since 1913.

Paintings were entered in two sections, gallery and unaffiliated. Caballero's work was entered as unaffiliated, and had to pass a jury in order to be accepted for showing. The painting which he sent is "Valle de Climar," a gouache in gray and white showing the palisaded lava caps on cliffs in the Cimarron Valley northwest of Boise City, Okla.

On Jan. 5, one of Dr. Caballero's paintings went up with other works in the 8th Southwestern Exhibition of Paintings and Drawings at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts. This show, sponsored by the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts and the Dallas Print Society, will move from Dallas for showings throughout the Southwest until February, 1959. The painting Caballero had accepted for that show last year still is on tour.

Also still out for display is a Caballero painting being shown at the Texas Fine Arts Exhibit in South Texas.

Dr. Caballero, who received his B.A. degree from WTSC, went on to receive his Master of Arts degree and his Ph.D. degree from Teachers College at Columbia University in New York.

Jack Wester and family fo Carlsbad, N. M., visited Mrs. W. I. Wester during the holidays. All of them visited the Randall Westers in Amarillo.

Frank Kimbrough Jr. left Dec. 23 by plane for New York City and West Point to visit his sister and family, Capt. and Mrs. George S. Oliver.

SHE DID

A housewife picked out six apples and handed them to the grocery clerk. "That'll be 65 cents, madam," he said.

She handed the clerk a dollar bill and started walking out.

"Wait lady, you forgot your change."

"That's all right," she replied sweetly. "I stepped on a grape on the way in."

Prospects Aren't Getting Brighter

Marriage prospects aren't any brighter for girls this year.

Already the girls outnumber the boys, two to one, in Canyon's new residents.

Two girls were born in Neblett Hospital this year before one boy was born.

Dayna Ann Venhaus, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Albert Venhaus of Happy, was the first child born in Neblett Hospital. She was born on Jan. 1 at 8:37 a. m.

Born Jan. 1 at 3 p. m., Betty Jane Fischbacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ernest Fischbacher of Amarillo, beat the third child by 96 hours. An infant boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Batenhorst Jan. 5 at 3 p. m.

The Venhauses have no other children, and the Fischbachers have five other children.

Fluffy Snow

The snow fell so lightly that it piled high on branches of evergreens, giving them a Christmas look.

WALKING BETTER

The elderly gentleman was walking past a drug store when, without warning a young man dashed out of the shop, took a flying leap into the air with his legs astride, and fell in a heap in the gutter.

The older man hurried over to him.

"Dear, dear!" he said sympathetically. "Are you hurt?"

"NO," was the sharp reply. "But I'd like to meet the villain who took my bike away."

SNAPS

"That man lives off the snaps of life."

"What kind of a job does he claim?"

"He's a bone specialist — sets broken arms and legs."

HE WOULD

Proud father (showing new triplets to a visitor): "Well, what do you think of them?"

Visitor (pointing to the one in the middle): "I'd keep that one."

A FREE PRESS . . . and CENSORSHIP

America is at peace. While we have men in uniform stationed over the world, we are not at war. In every way, we are working to preserve our peaceful relations with other peoples whose idealogies and aspirations differ from ours.

Figuring largely in that huge undertaking is America's Free Press. Even during the peaceful years, it has become necessary that certain information regarding discoveries and inventions be protected. Security has become big business.

"Keep this out of the newspaper," are fighting words to any newspaper editor who is a conscientious craftsman. Yet editors of all newspapers, large and small, realize the responsibilities facing them, to help preserve the securities that are so important to all of us.

Government, the military, and the scientific fields, receive full cooperation from the men and women who, by training, are accustomed to dig out and know the news . . . and who, by instinct, strive to keep the people fully informed.

Americans have a right to expect that full freedom of the press be preserved, within the bounds drawn by these securities.

For a completely free press is the only safe foundation on which government of the people can build all other freedoms.

ROAST DUCKLING WITH APPLE STUFFING

LOOK's recipe for roast duckling with apple stuffing makes rich wintertime eating. The stuffing is a combination of onions, celery, raisins, apples and bread.

Wash inside and outside of a 5-6 pound (dressed weight) duckling; dry thoroughly. Melt ¼ cup butter or margarine in saucepan. Add, lightly brown ½ cup each diced onion, diced celery. Combine in bowl ½ cup seedless raisins, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, 2 cups diced apples (or use well drained canned apple slices), 1 cup cubed soft white bread, the browned onion and celery. Stuff, truss duckling. Place duckling, breast side up on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast uncovered at 325 degrees F. allowing 20 minutes to the pound. Fifteen minutes before duckling is done, brush all over with mixture of 2 tablespoons honey, ½ teaspoon bottled gravy sauce. Serves 4.
